process automation
end-to-end automation with actionable flows

With the CONTENTPRO workflows, you can digitalize your business processes and control them automatically. This helps users to complete transactions faster, grant approvals more quickly, and make more informed decisions. CONTENTPRO workflows also provide numerous options for modelling processes according to your requirements.

Our intelligent digital mailroom solutions streamline document-centric business processes at the point of entry. The CONTENTPRO analyzes and processes documents from different incoming channels, extracts information from the respective document, checks it against the data in an ERP system, and reconciles it with AI technology. As a result, you can route business documents to the corresponding business process or department almost fully automatically.

e-records management follows the same basic principles as paper-based records management
